

Keep on top of all things important.

A fully audited discussion platform for patient, practice and business matters.

Audited discussions at your fingertips.

A fully audited discussion platform for everyone to organise, manage, share and discuss patient or business matters.

Collaborator can be used for clinical and non-clinical matters. Documents can be dropped into conversations to be able to discuss specific matters. This is especially useful when other clinical opinions are needed for patient issues.

Practice policies can be drafted and reviewed amongst members of staff before being decided on, as well as To-Do lists, managing patient complaints and internal referral reviews.

Keep on track with a fully audited platform to show you who's involved and when they've read it.

Tag discussions to be able to search for each conversation quickly in the future.

Set priority levels and make sure the highly important topics are discussed and dealt with first.

Less administrative tasks with no need to type up meeting notes or manage email trails.

“ A GP can open a discussion in Collaborator with another GP, say if a GP has a speciality in dermatology, then they can discuss and review the referral. The discussion is then saved back to the patient letter with an easy to view audit trail of who has commented and what the result was. ”

Marg Robinson, Data Quality & IT Manager, Sandy Lane Surgery

Simple way to review policies

Add documents into conversations with colleagues to discuss their opinions too.

Better decision making

Work together as a team on issues or documents to make initial ideas into brilliant ones.

Attach supporting documents

Drag and drop documents into discussions to know exactly what you're talking about.

Manage practice matters

The fully audited discussion platform lets you keep on track of who's said what and look back at past decisions for improvement.

6,000
GP practices
use Docman

You take care of the patients.
We'll take care of the documents.

“ Docman provides the practice with sophisticated document management service that allows us to provide excellent care to our patients. In addition they provide great back up support. ”

Mark Taylor, Churchill Medical Centre

“ It stops paper cluttering the practice and desk space along with moving data to the correct people in a timely and safe fashion. ”

James Cole, Riverbank Medical Centre

“ Helps to maximise QOF points whilst being intuitive and easy to operate. ”

Ian Shepherd, Oxshott Medical Practice

120

NHS trusts

6,000

GP practices

docman

delivering paper free care

200,000
NHS staff

37,000,000
patients registered

Our passion is electronic document management.

We provide one-click, easy to use electronic document management software to support busy NHS organisations.

Built on a one-click philosophy, our software is designed to be completely user-friendly so you can focus your time on patient care.

Arrange a demonstration

01977 66 44 96

www.docman.com

sales@docman.com