

NHS cloud based document store.

Docman Vault supports greater interoperability and sharing of documents between healthcare settings.

Docman Vault - a secure, central document store.

In line with the NHS 5 Year Forward View, Docman Vault supports record sharing by providing access to documents to deliver improved sharing and interoperability.

With a push for shared records, Docman Vault is an enabler to incorporate the latest documents to provide a complete view of that patient record.

Docman Vault provides you with the ability to share documents and information with patients, third parties and healthcare providers. The Docman Vault concept is based around an NHS patient-centric document cloud store, hosted on a secure N3 environment with strict security and access control.

Consumed through an open API, Docman Vault provides a platform for sharing patient documents, Docman Hub letters and non-patient documents.

Integrated care

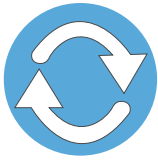

Remove the barriers of document access for:

- Sharing records across a CCG or group of CCGs.
- Sharing records across practices and federations.
- Extended hours access to documents.
- Secondary Care settings.

A complete shared record with access to documents.

Uploading documents to the Docman Vault supports a seamless background process with no disruptions.

Safe and secure connections in line with published NHS standards for approved and verified third parties.

Created for all Health and Social Care Organisations, the Vault allows providers to securely store documents keeping all health professionals involved and patients informed.

“We are really excited about our cloud strategy. Interoperability has always been at the heart of everything we do at Docman, we will now be able to take this to an all new level. The Five Year Forward View poses a way forward to some of the challenges facing the NHS, new ways of working enabled by technology will be key to the future of its success.

By moving to a new cloud based platform, Docman will support the growing move to GP federations and the cross Health and Social Care sharing of patient data. One of the areas I am personally really excited about is the engagement of patients in their care journey, Docman in the cloud will enable new ways to interact with patients and their personal devices.”
