

Digitising the Transfer of Care process across your health economy.

Send and receive letters electronically with Docman Hub.

Send and receive clinical correspondence electronically.

Docman Hub is a structured messaging platform which enables clinical communication between care settings, removing the need for stamps, envelopes and the associated costs.

Over 120 NHS Trusts use Docman Hub to send and receive a variety of clinical and non-clinical documents in a safe and secure way, ensuring timely delivery with a full audit trail.

Managed Hub

The Docman Managed Hub service is available to all healthcare providers to deliver clinical correspondence to thousands of GP practices.

This is a revolutionary enhancement to the existing Docman Hub Network, as a cloud based service this provides healthcare organisations of all sizes a cost-effective solution for transferring documents and data to GPs.

The secure service will ensure organisations are ready and future proofed against any new emerging standards.

“ We are now recognising many of the benefits attributed to putting Docman in practice such as improved patient safety, improved patient information, quality and cost savings. NHS Tayside is now processing over 150,000 documents a month within 8 document sources ranging from the Out of Hours Episodes, Immediate Discharge Letters and Lab Results. ”

Lesley McLay, Chief Operating Officer, NHS Tayside

“ The Trust utilised Docman very effectively and send out over 60,000 electronic letters in the past 12 months which has helped deliver improved patient care and given efficiency savings to both the Trust and local GP's. ”

Robert Clacher, Western Sussex Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust

“ I love Docman because it gets clinical documents to the GPs quickly and securely. ”
